CHOWAN COLLEGE

MURFREESBORO, N. C.

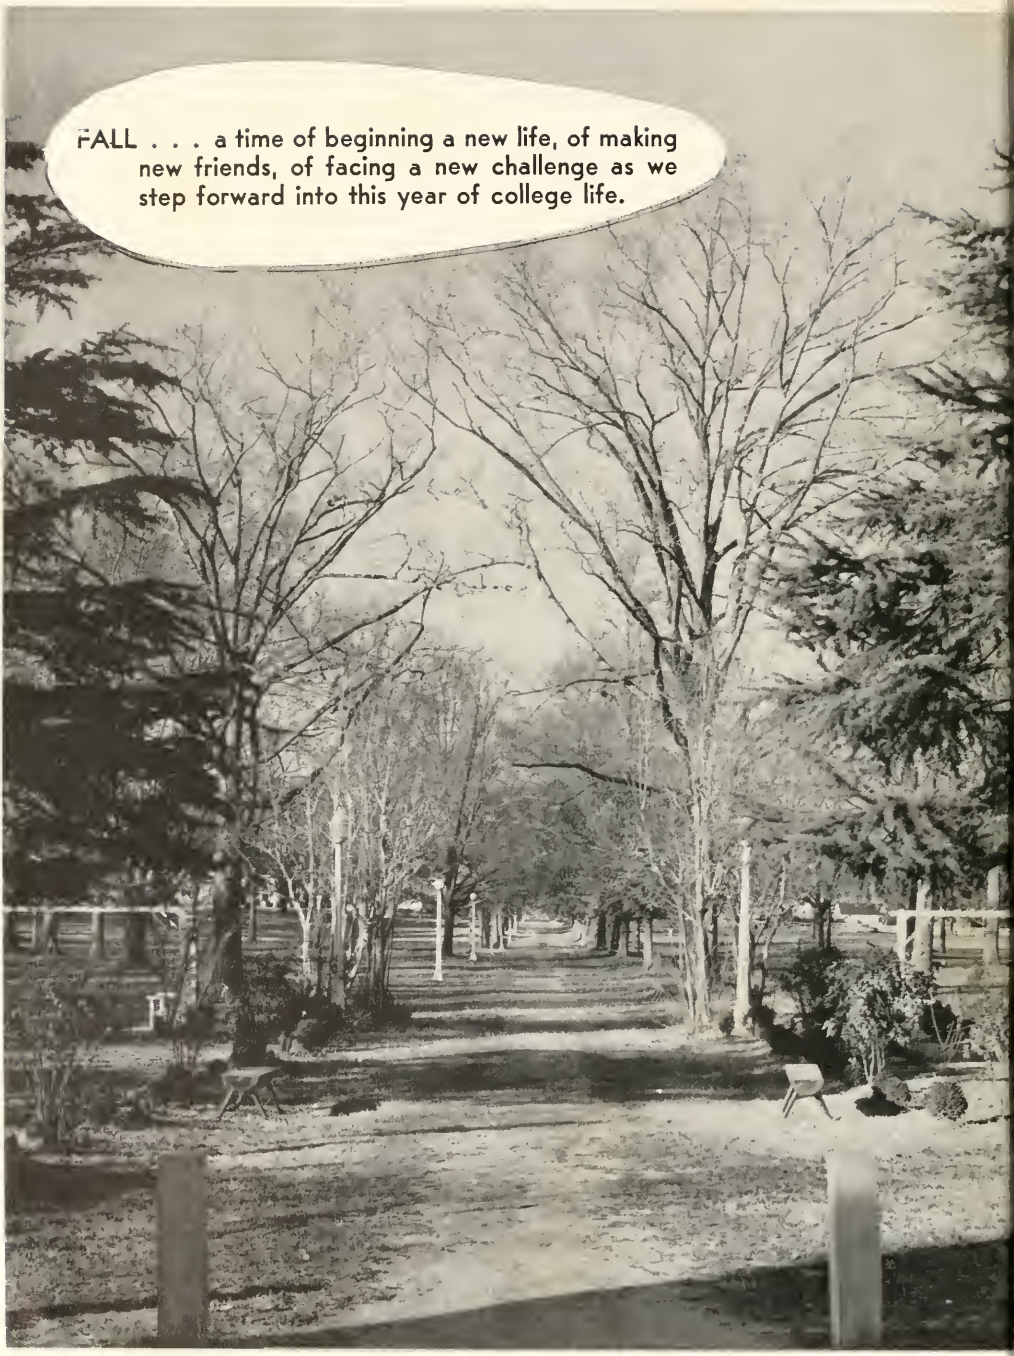
Dedication . . .

TO MR. JACK VAUGHAN

For immeasurable friendliness . . . . . .
For unselfish and faithful service to the students, faculty, staff, and Chowan College.

Our President . . .

DR. BRUCE E. WHITAKER



FALL . . . a time of beginning a new life, of making new friends, of facing a new challenge as we step forward into this year of college life.

WINTER . . . a time of growth and maturity as students settle down to more serious aspects of college life, of the evidence of progress in individual and group living.

SPRING . . . a time of graduation, with its co-mingling of joy and sorrow, of remembrance and anticipation, of that moment of reaching the goal toward which we have been working during these happy seasons at Chowan.

AN OLD CHOWAN TRADITION

Court in session . . .

RAT DAY is a tradition at Chowan. One day each school year is set aside for the initiation of freshmen. They are required to dress appropriately for the occasion. If they fail to follow the commands of sophomores, they are required to appear before the dreaded "Rat Court."

This court finds you guilty of . . .

"Grovel, rat!"

THE SCHOOL OF GRAPHIC ARTS AT CHOWAN COLLEGE

Where the Type is Set

Some of the Linotypes (typesetting machines) in the School of Printing on which The Chowanoka type is set.

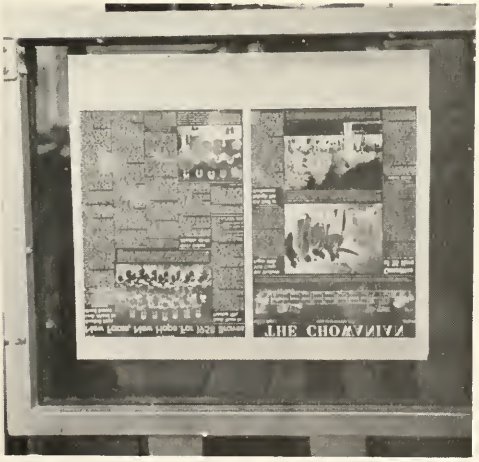
How The Chowanoka Was Printed

(1) Front of large camera that "copies" paste-up pages on to film.

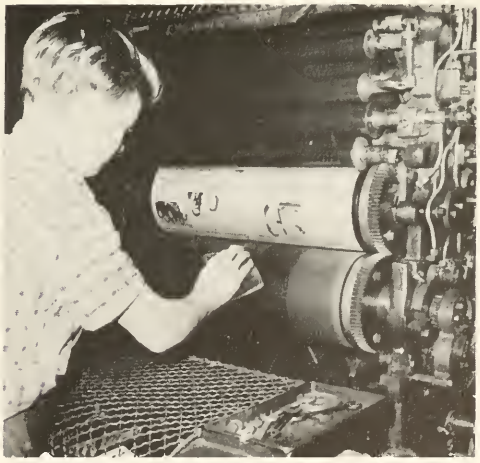
(2) The back of the camera which is located in a photographic darkroom.

The Teletypesetter

Girls as well as boys are finding the Teletypesetter perforator, shown here, a good source for employment. They say salaries are very good. The machine is very much like the typewriter.



(3) Negative is transferred to sensitized aluminum plate.



(4) Plate is shown on offset press that printed The Chowanoka.

Campaign Fund Nears New Goal

At a recent report meeting, workers in the current Chowan College campaign for funds begin construction cafeteria build
